

THERE ARE MANY REASONS

Why someone would want a lump sum payment on their Note or Receivable

- Current Enjoyment
- To pay off debt
- To fund college costs
- Other investment opportunities
- Major purchases
- To pay taxes
- Simply tired of collecting payments!

Should I Sell
My Note?

CURRENTLY RECEIVING PAYMENTS?

Are you receiving payments under a legal obligation such as mortgage, lottery winnings, personal injury claim or other accounts receivable?

The Funding Source Network represents national corporations who purchase these payment streams for CASH NOW.

ALL or only a PORTION of the payment stream MAY BE SOLD. You may even sell future payments for cash today while still receiving current payments.

NO NEW DEBT IS CREATED. You sell; you do not borrow. Your personal credit is not important.

TIME VALUE OF MONEY

Cash today is “Worth more” than “Cash tomorrow.”

Economic factors like inflation and the rising cost of living make money in the future worth less than money today.

Most People agree that $100 today could be worth $50 or less in 10 years.

TODAY the value of your note(s) will depend on several factors, including:

- The collateral securing the note (if any)
- Number of remaining payments
- Interest rate (if any)
- Credit worthiness of the party making the payments to you
